Absolutely because I always felt I had someone to clarify things for me when I got confused. I had never done research for a library or non-profit before.

I dont know

It was more helpful because the librarian could better explain what they were looking for having someone in the field gave me a lot of information to work with and a better understanding

It helped to have someone with experience talk about it.

Having the librarians explain to us exactly what they are looking for helped with the assignment

It made me more comfortable with the interview, which made it easier to ask questions.

Sara provided a lot of insight into the library workings as well as answered formatting questions very quickly via email.

I am confident in my ability to use the skills learned in this course to enhance my personal and professional life.
